

What is the Colorado Alliance for Environmental Education (CAEE)?

CAEE is a vibrant and growing community of over 600 members, including nonformal educators, teachers, community organizations, public agencies, businesses, non-profits and individual stakeholders, who all support a common vision of improving environmental literacy in Colorado. CAEE exists to provide professional development opportunities, coordinate support services, and facilitate communication and networking between Colorado’s EE providers and the public. To fulfill this role in this wide-ranging EE community, CAEE manages several programs and projects, including:

- Electronic Information Clearinghouse – the state’s on-line “yellow pages” of EE resources
- Resource Review System - a quality assurance review process for EE programs/materials
- Teaching OUTSIDE the Box - the annual statewide EE professional development conference
- EE Program Awards - a statewide, annual recognition program
- EE InfoLink - A monthly newsletter containing upcoming events, trainings, job announcements, resources, etc.
- Correlations Project - managing centralized correlations between EE programs and the state academic standards
- Stewardship of Colorado’s Environmental Education Master Plan project
- Hosting the state’s EE Advisory Council - made up of key leaders from Colorado's EE community
- Establishing a state training center for EE
- Maintaining close working relationships with community-based regional EE networks

CAEE has become a national leader in innovative, state-of-the-art approaches to statewide capacity building for EE. A membership with CAEE is an investment in your own professional development, and your support strengthens the field of EE as a whole. Current membership benefits include:

- Monthly newsletter (delivered by e-mail)
- Announcements of upcoming EE events & EE Job openings
- Invitations to professional development workshops and networking events
- Discounts to CAEE functions, such as the annual “Teaching Outside the Box” conference
- The opportunity to be a part of the statewide EE Advisory Council and participate in planning committees

Organizational membership benefits also include:

- Free placement on the Colorado Environmental Education Online Database/Directory
- Free access to the Online Resource Self-Review System

CAEE could not accomplish our mission of building statewide capacity for EE without the support and energy of our members.
